PRICE MOVEMENTS IN NARROW RANGE

Fluctuations of the List Are Small and Irregular, Lacking Definite Course.

RECENT RESILIENCY OUT OF SPECULATION

Demand by Loan Crowd Shows Still Large Short Interest-Westerns Drop on Rate News.

NEW YORK, June 16.-The copper stocks, steel and Reading were slightly Ecthlehem Steel com. 29 29 2734 2734 higher at the opening today. The Harriman and Hill stocks, Lehigh Valley and Canadian Pacific were fractionally lower. The largest change was that of Canadian Pacific, which opened off a point. Fluctuations elsewhere were small and irregular, and the volume of business showed a considerable falling off from the closing days of last week.

Many stocks covered a range of a point during the first hour's trading, but the list did not hold a definite course. Fol lowing the opening decline, prices rose briskly on active buying, but broke afterward when Union Pacific lost 112. Speculation lacked the resilience which characterized the market on recent days, and the weight of professional selling again made itself felt.

London Buys Moderately.

Prices moved downward during the morning, except for a spurt in the first hour, and by noon most stocks were well under Saturday's close. London bought moderately of Canadian Pacific and Amalgamated, and sold Union Pacific and Steel. Union Pacific was sold here on rumors that the Attorney General would oppose the latest plans for dissolutions of the Harriman merger unless provision were made for disposition of Central Pa-

The keen demand in the loan crowd for the leading stocks indicated that a large short interest still existed, despite the heavy coverings on the upturn last week. Bonds were easy.

COTTON MARKETS.

NEW YORK.

NEW YORK. June 16.-The cotton market opened today at an advance of 4 to s points in response to higher Liverpoo cables, buying of the near months by trade interests, and scattered covering. Weather advices were considered very favorable, as clear conditions with rising temperature were reported over Sunday, but some of the private crop reviews were rather less encouraging, and the report of a New Orleans authority indicating an increase of only about 5 per cent in acreage, with rather a spotted crop, tended to restrict new crop offerings. Business was not active, but the market held steady within a point or two of the initial figures during the early trading. Futures opened steady; June, 11.95 bid; July, 12.03; August, 12.00; September, 11.62; October, 11.45; December, 11.40; January, 11.35; March, 11.44; May, 11.46.

LONDON MARKET.

LONDON. June 16.-Two small failures were posted on the stock exchange today. but the announcement had little effect on values during the forenoon, when the tone was generally cheerful, and prices advanced under the lead of investment issues and American and Brazilian rails. The closing was below the best, however, owing to local profit-taking and selling by Paris. Consols lost their early gain when it became known that Germany had taken the bulk of the $3,750,000 new gold offered in the open market. American securities opened steady and about unchanged. Light buying advanced values a fraction, but most of the gains were lost in the second hour. Another upward movement followed, but the list declined again in the afternoon on New York offerings and some selling, which was believed to be in connection with the morning failures. The closing was

Right and Left Hands.

From the London Chronicle. As regards the moral significance of the right and left hands, a Highland friend who is something of a Gaelic scholar gives me the interesting information that in Gaelic the right and left hands become, respectively, the "south" hand and the "north" hand. The moral aspect of it comes out in the Gaelic idea of the south as rich, well favored and fortunate. and the north as the reverse. In the "south" hand are carried riches and honor. The north-handed man is unlucky. And now we know why it is so many Scotsmen go southward!

grass, 1.25a1.60; orchard grass, 1.35a1.60. Automobile's Pulling Power.

Los Angeles, Cal., recently gave a demonstration of the pulling strength of his machine by attaching it, by means of a rope running from the rear axle of the car to the pilot of a hundred-and-ten-ton locomotive, and drawing the locomotive along the track. The start was made from a dead standstill, and it was at first thought impossible to move the great Braden Copper. mass of iron and steel, as the wheels of the car slipped badly and the locomotive seemed to be glued to the track. After weighting the car with six goodmen, however, the tires took a firmer hold, and after a long, steady strain the wheels of the engine began to revolve slowly. The accomplishment of the task is testified to by a number of witnesses, who at first declared it impossible, and looked for the breaking of under way, however, and drawn for some 751/8 distance down the track without injury 9258 to the automobile in any way. J. Frank Browning of Sang Run, Md.,

WEATHER.

Continued Warm and Probably Fair Tonight and Tuesday.

For the District of Columbia, Maryland and Virginia, continued warm and probably fair weather tonight and Tuesday light to moderate poutryest and west

A disturbance of moderate intensity has moved to the St. Lawrence valley from the Hudson bay region, and it has caused scattered thundershowers in the north Atlantic states and the Ohio valley. Showers are also reported from widely scattered points in the northwest High temperatures are general norning throughout the eastern and outhern states, the great central alleys and the lake region, while normal temperatures are reported from the Rocky mountain region and the Pacific

Local thundershowers are probable this afternoon in the Ohio valley and the north Atlantic states, while generally fair and warm weather will prevail tonight and Tuesday over the greater part of the country east of the Mississippi river. The winds along the New England coast will be moderate southwest and west; on the middle Atlantic coast light to moderate southwest and west; on the south Atlantic and east gulf coasts light vari-

GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

CHICAGO.

CHICAGO, June 16.-Insufficiency of noisture in the spring crop belt tended N. H. oday to push up the priceof wheat. Experts sent word that there was danger of short growth. It was also declared that continued dry, hot weather would make the yield shrink fast. Opening prices were 1/8 lower to 3/8 higher. September, in whic htrading was most active, opened at 92¼ to 92½, a gain of 1/8 to %, and rose to 92%. Scarcity of offerings lifted corn. July opened %a½ to lal% up, at 61% to 62%

Oats were broad in demand, owing to bsence of needed rain. July, which started %43% to 1341% higher, at 41½ to 42%, steadied at 41%. Provisions hardened on account of the oulge in coarse grains. First sales ranged from 21/2 off to 121/2 higher in September options. Pork, 20.20; lard, 11.12; ribs,

Conservation of the Oyster. From the Philadelphia Ledger.

Oysters should be our cheapest food. In the bays along the Atlantic coast from Massachusetts to Florida are millions of acres of bottom on which they may be cultivated or on which they would grow without attention if let alone long enough

Yet the oyster becomes more expensive very year. Many of the old primes have disappeared. Greed has exhausted their beds. Five hundred delegates met recently to consider the situation, but how much can they do? They recommend higher prices; but the necessary thing is direct missionary work to convert loca committees to new knowledge. A very large part of Philadelphia's oyster supply comes from the Chesapeake bay, the largest oyster territory in the world. Th supply of this bay has been cut down more than 50 per cent by thriftless methods. Many of the best grounds have been made bare. Within the past three years scientific men have surveyed a large part of the bay with the idea of leasing and planting by private parties, the only practical way to reproduce the crop. But the natives have combined to destroy the work, to defy the law and to defeat the

It is a peculiar fact that force will not meet this emergency. These natives be-lieve the oyster is a wild gift from Providence and that it is not amenable to law They have no conscience in the matter. For a half century there have been attempts at reform, but failure has come because it ran against this sentiment. The only thing to do is to educate it away. A bountiful supply of oysters would be a wonderful addition to the food supply. It would be an untold blessing to the poor. So far conservation has concerned itself mainly with trees and water power. It might devote some of its attention to food, and a good beginning would be the restoration of the oyster.

The Real Monte Carlo.

Of all the thousands of novels and tales which lay their scenes at Monte Carlo, scarcely one seizes the atmosphere or even condescends to accuracy of detail. This is strange, for a man or woman who elects to write fiction about Servia or strains strenuously after local color, collates facts with formic patience, relieves the tedium of adventures by all the technical terms which text books can provide. Perhaps the explanation is that Monte Carlo, like the stage, is overshadowed by LIVERPOOL, June 16.—Wheat%Spot steady; No. 1 Manitoba, 7s 10d; No. 2, 7s 6½d; No. 3, 7s ½d; futures firm; July, 7s 5%d; October, 7s 4½d; December, 7s ed by haggard gamblers on the brink of

It consists of parts of Chinese characters which represent fixed sounds. There are twenty-four initials and fifteen finals, making an alphabet of thirty-nine letters. It may be called a Chinese-Roman alphabet, as the method of combination is quite similar to the Roman one. The initials are ke, k'e, ne, chi, ch'l, ni, te, t'e, no, pu, p'u, mu, fu, wu, ts, ts'., sz, chi, ch'i, shi, ho, shi, ie, ri, and the finals are le-i-lung is ling, ne-i-en is nine, etc.

How "Best-Sellers" Are Written.

It is said that many of our journals are eorge P. Brett, in the Atlantic.

edited strictly with a view to increasing the receipts from the advertising pages, with what truth I do not know, but it is certain that much of the current fiction is written with a view to supplying just the sort of thrills the public demands. Indeed, I am told that the author of a long series of "best sellers." immediately after a new work of his appears, sits in solemn conclave with his publishers and their editors and advisers. wherein the subject and scenes of his next effort are outlined and voted on, with a keen regard to the supposed dreams and desires of the rising generation of readers. Novels of merit and value, representing honest work and the real convictions of their authors, still from time to time make their appearance. but it is seldom indeed that one of these finds its way into the ranks of the "six best-sellers." Their appeal is to that part of the public which still discriminates in its reading, a smaller percentage of the whole, I fear, at present than in any re-Francis A. ## Richard Brinsley Sheridan.

Sheridan's "School for Scandal" proclaimed the writer as the greatest comic dramatist of his age. But the supreme achievement of his life was the indictment of Warren Hastings. In that triumph Mrs. Sheridan shared, together with the whole household. According to Moore, "ail the family were busily employed, some with pen and scissors making extracts, some stitching scattered memorandums in their places, so that there was scarcely one, even of the servants, who had not had some share in the speech. When the triumph came Mrs. Sheridan wrote to her sister-in-law: 'I have delayed writing until I could gratify myself and you by sending you the news of our dear Dick's triumph-of our tridate: attorneys, C. H. A remarkable feat of involuntary fasting was performed twelve years ago by lonial infantry. But a pig can beat a man. Dr. W. B. Carpenter, in his "Manual of Physiology," records that a pig weighing 100 pounds was entombed by the fall of a portion of the chalk cliffs at Dover. It was dug out 160 days later and found to be still alive, but reduced in weight to forty pounds.

Blooms From Split Bulbs.

A novel experiment is that of growing two hyacinth bulbs together. Two bulbs are selected which are known to flower about the same time, although in other respects the more diverse they are the better. Each is cut from the crown to the base with a sharp knife in such way that the central shoot is expose but not injured. The two larger portions of the bulbs are then tied together, the cut portions facing one another. The double bulb is then potted in the usual way. If all has gone well, a single stem comes up, while the flower may be blue on one side and pink on the other, according to the colors of the bulbs.
